Single Sign-On

You can now log in to all our databases with one single sign-on called Open Athens. Just enter your search in the SmartSearch box and you’ll be asked for your MUS network login credentials. If you enter through our MUS Research Guides, you’ll get the same login prompt. Exception: for a few of the databases, you may need to click on another box that says “Log in via your home institution” or “Shibboleth users click here,” and it should redirect you automatically. We’re working to get that changed. Email the Hyde Library staff if you need help.

Pizza Talks

MUS faculty and staff would like to enjoy a free lunch with you while talking about summer reading. It’s optional, and it’s first-come, first-served, so check the library website starting May 16 for the student signup. On the webpage, find the available books for your grade, put your name in the box for the book you plan to read, and click Submit. Not all summer reading books will be listed; it’s optional for teachers too. If you want to read a book that hasn’t been picked by a faculty member, ask at the Welcome Desk and we’ll try to add it. Groups will be limited to 7 or 8 each, so don’t delay.

Sign up starting May 16 and read during the summer. Then in August, simply show up to lunch (we’ll let you know which day), sit down at the table with your title and faculty member, and talk about the book you’ve read. Free pizza lunch provided by the library!

Exam Week Refuel

Come by the library every morning of Exam Week for free chocolate milk, orange juice, and iced coffee; stock up on muffins, donuts, or other breakfast foods and get yourself ready for exams. Thanks to our library volunteers for always providing the fare and for a year of amazing work!

from publisher’s descriptions

The Good Lord Bird by James McBride.
Recommended by Bonnie Barnes.
Fleeing his violent master at the side of abolitionist John Brown at the height of the slavery debate in Kansas Territory, Henry pretends to be a girl to hide his identity throughout the raid on Harpers Ferry in 1859.

All the Light We Cannot See by Anthony Doerr.
Recommended by Barbara Presley.
A stunningly ambitious and beautiful novel about a blind French girl and a German boy whose paths collide in occupied France as both try to survive the devastation of World War II.

Bradbury Speaks by Ray Bradbury.
Recommended by Zach Sandberg.
He is an American treasure, a clear-eyed fantasist without peer, and a literary icon who has created wonder for the better part of seven decades. On subjects as diverse as fiction, the future, film, famous personalities, and more, Ray Bradbury has much to say, as only he can say it.

The Wright Brothers by David McCullough.
Recommended by Nancy Arant.
This is the dramatic story-behind-the-story about the courageous brothers who taught the world how to fly: Wilbur and Orville Wright. On a winter day in 1903, in the Outer Banks of North Carolina, two unknown brothers from Ohio changed history. But it would take the world some time to believe what had happened: the age of flight had begun, with the first heavier-than-air, powered machine carrying a pilot.

The Rosie Project by Graeme Simsion.
Recommended by Laura Bontrager.
The art of love is never a science: Meet Don Tillman, a brilliant yet socially inept professor of genetics, who’s decided it’s time he found a wife. In the orderly, evidence-based manner with which Don approaches all things, he designs the Wife Project to find his perfect partner: a sixteen-page, scientifically valid survey to filter out the drinkers, the smokers, and the late arrivers.
