“We are like islands in the sea, separate on the surface but connected in the deep.”
— William James

The theme for the 2015-16 Annual Fund campaign reflects a thread that runs through MUS back to our founding – connection. Whether we are students, alumni, parents, grandparents, faculty, or friends, we are connected to this great institution, albeit in distinct and diverse ways.

As we look back at the past school year, we see thousands of connections that build on our legacy of excellence – teachers encouraging students to reach a high bar in academics, coaches teaching players values and character in athletics, instructors helping students discover and develop their talent and creativity in the arts. We see the connections of boys joining together to serve the community and alumni continuing that tradition by holding 600-plus seats on nonprofit boards.

This year’s Annual Fund campaign centered on the social media hashtag #MUSconnect. Throughout this report you will see the result – photos of Owls holding signs that reflect how they have connected with MUS.

In addition to your own special links with the school, many of you reached out through your generosity this year. We raised a total of $2,381,572 from 2,263 donors, which included $1,328,788 in unrestricted Annual Fund giving. Once again our Board of Trustees and faculty/staff demonstrated their commitment with 100 percent participation in the Annual Fund. Sixty-eight percent of our parents contributed $363,772, and 31 percent of alumni contributed $782,271 to the campaign. Our Lynn Society (a record 73 members) gave $538,883, while the Thorn Society (406 members) contributed $502,651.

Your gifts touched our students and faculty in myriad ways, allowing us to recruit and retain teachers and coaches who transform young lives, to support community service and leadership projects that foster character development, and to stay up-to-date with technology both in the classroom and in our administrative systems. Through your donations you also have helped us make a variety of recent campus improvements:

- Roofing for Lower School
- Fourteen air conditioners for Lower School
- New Blackbaud student data/website system
- New intercom system
- Renovation of basketball locker room (see back cover)
- Concrete amphitheater seating for Rogers Field (lacrosse)
- Widening of Webb Field (soccer) and addition of bleachers
- Painting in Fisher Fine Arts Wing
- Improvements to drainage behind Fisher Fine Arts Wing

We extend our deepest thanks for your help in these and many other accomplishments. We hope you will enjoy reviewing the 2015-16 Annual Report and seeing some of the connections that form the fabric of our community, supporting our ongoing mission of developing well-rounded young men of strong moral character for generations to come.

Bob ’65 and Edith Heller
The Thorn Society is named for former headmaster D. Eugene Thorn who served MUS for 37 years as a dedicated teacher, headmaster, and mentor. Through their generous support, Thorn Society members help preserve the standards of excellence in education, facilities, and opportunities for MUS students and faculty that were so important to Mr. Thorn.

PERMANENT ENDOWMENT FUNDS

Endowed Scholarships

RICHARD L. ESSEX, SR. SCHOLARSHIP
This endowed scholarship fund was established in 2000 in honor of Richard L. Essex, Sr. ’67 on his 50th birthday as a surprise from his children, Rick Essex ’92 and Ashley Essex Thayer and her husband, Jack. The fund provides tuition assistance to a motivated young man who seeks character development and academic excellence, but who otherwise might not be able to afford an MUS education.

HUMPHREY ESTES FOLK SCHOLARSHIP
Humphrey Estes Folk, Jr. and his son, Humphrey Estes “Tripp” Folk III, established this fund in 1999 during the Doors to New Opportunities Campaign. The endowed scholarship provides funds for motivated young men who seek character development and academic excellence but otherwise could not afford an MUS education.

EDWARD E. FORD FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIP
Established as a permanent endowment fund by a grant in 1980 from the Edward E. Ford Foundation of Washington, DC, the earnings provide general scholarship assistance to students who have demonstrated financial need.

MARY AND ALLEN GARY SCHOLARSHIP
Sam C. Gary ’62 established this endowment in 2014 in memory of his parents, Mary and Allen Gary. The fund provides need-based financial aid to students who show academic promise, leadership, and character, but require assistance to attend Memphis University School.

MARK J. HALPERIN SCHOLARSHIP
This endowed fund was established in 2009 to honor Mark Halperin ’67 on his 60th birthday by his wife, Diane, and her parents, Mary and Maury Bronstein. The fund, in recognition of Halperin’s commitment to education and service to the school, provides tuition assistance to deserving students who might not otherwise be able to afford an MUS education.

THOMAS E. HARRISON SCHOLARSHIP
Alumni, family, and friends established this fund in memory of Coach Tommy Harrison in 2010 to pay tribute to this “gentle giant” who had a profound influence on his students. Coach Harrison spent the last 13 years of his storied coaching career at MUS where he was an assistant coach of football and track, as well as the head coach of wrestling for several years. The income from this endowment provides need-based financial aid.

JOSEPH R. HYDE, JR. HONOR SCHOLARSHIP
Joseph R. Hyde, Jr., a trustee for more than 20 years, established this scholarship fund to identify, attract, and reward students who have distinguished themselves in academics and who have developed strong qualities of character.

JOHN E. MARCOM, SR. SCHOLARSHIP
This endowed scholarship fund was established in 2005 by John E. Marcom, Jr. ’75 to honor his father, John E. Marcom, Sr., on his 75th birthday. The fund is a tribute to Marcom’s lifelong love of learning and commitment to education and provides tuition assistance to deserving young scholars who otherwise might not be able to afford an MUS education.

RUTH E. AND ALBERT H. OLINGY SCHOLARSHIP FUND
Jeffrey F. Olingy ’67 created this fund in honor of his parents, Ruth E. and Albert H. Olingy. The endowment provides income for scholarships enabling deserving students to attend MUS.

NEWTON C. PERKINS SCHOLARSHIP
This scholarship was established in memory of Newton Cannon Perkins ’19 by his family, Margaret and John Salmon and Madeleine P. Jehl. The scholarship is to be awarded on the basis of financial need to that boy who has above-average intellectual ability and a strong desire to attend Memphis University School. The scholarship is to be renewed each year, provided the student has a satisfactory academic record and excellent citizenship.

READER’S DIGEST SCHOLARSHIP
This scholarship program was established by a grant from the Wallace Funds, a legacy of the late DeWitt and Lila Acheson Wallace, co-founders of Reader’s Digest. The income from the permanent endowed scholarship fund provides partial scholarship assistance for talented students from middle-income families who have the ability and intention to pay a portion of their child’s tuition. The maximum award does not exceed one-half of the full tuition charge.

STEPHEN H. RHEA, JR. SCHOLARSHIP
This scholarship was established in 1989 by Linda and Herbert Rhea in honor of their son, Stephen H. Rhea, Jr. ’68. Income from the endowed fund is used for general scholarship assistance.

GEORGE M. STRATTON, JR. SCHOLARSHIP
Classmates and friends established this endowed fund in memory of George M. Stratton, Jr. ’66 in 2015. Stratton remained involved with MUS throughout his life and cherished the lifelong friends he made here. The need-based scholarship helps ensure that deserving young men benefit from the same environment and experiences he held so dear.

Endowed Teaching Chairs

A. ROBERT BOELTE, JR. CHAIR OF EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING
This fund was established in 2002 in honor of Bob Boelte by his former students, The Boelte Boys. Boelte’s career at MUS began in 1969 as a teacher of history and English. In 1977, he took on the dual role of director of Admissions and director of College Counseling. Boelte retired as director of College Counseling in 2003 after 34 years of service to MUS. Samuel D. Suddarth III holds the A. Robert Boelte, Jr. Chair of Excellence in Teaching.

ANNE AND GLENN A. CROSBY CHAIR OF CHRISTIAN ETHICS
Nancy and Glenn Crosby, parents of four MUS alumni, Glenn ’77, Mark ’79, Scott ’82, and Andrew ’89, established the Chair of Christian Ethics in 1987 to honor Crosby’s parents. The Crosby Chair recognizes an outstanding educator, in an academic discipline selected by the headmaster, who is an exemplar of Christian ethics in the classroom and in daily life, promoting the mission of MUS to develop “well-rounded young men of strong moral character, consistent with the school’s Christian tradition.” Loyal W. Murphy IV ’86 holds the Crosby Chair of Christian Ethics.

L. EDWIN ELEAZER III CHAIR OF EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING
The Chair of Excellence in Teaching was established at MUS in 1998 by Ed and Katie Dobbs Eleazer in memory of their son, Ed Eleazer III ’94. The Eleazer Chair is made possible through gifts provided by the James K. Dobbs, Jr. Fund at the Community Foundation of Greater Memphis and by the Eleazers. The permanent endowment supporting the Eleazer Chair will enable the school to attract outstanding new faculty, or to recognize excellent teaching by a current faculty member, in an academic discipline designated by the headmaster. Norman S. Thompson, Jr. holds the Eleazer Chair of Excellence in Teaching.

SALLY AND WIL HERGENRADER CHAIR OF EXCELLENCE IN SCIENCE
Recognizing that the best leadership and teaching are required in the rapidly changing field of science, Sally and Wil Hergenrader endowed this chair in 2007 to support and enhance the MUS faculty in the Science Department. The Hergenraders are the parents of Terry ’75 and Steve ’77 and the grandparents of Wil ‘12 and Lewis ’15. R. Wayne Mullins holds the Sally and Wil Hergenrader Chair of Excellence in Science.

ROBERT J. HUSSEY, SR. CHAIR OF RELIGION
Edwin ’63, Richard, and Robert J. Hussey, Jr. established the Chair of Religion in 1984 to honor their father, Robert J. Hussey, Sr., a founding member of the Board of Trustees of the new MUS and a longtime benefactor of the school. Dr. David B. Jackson is the Robert J. Hussey, Sr. Instructor of Religion.

SUE HIGHTOWER HYDE CHAIR OF ENGLISH
This chair was established in 1963 by the Hyde family, and renamed in 1977, in memory of Sue Hightower Hyde, wife of Joseph R. Hyde, Jr. Sue Hyde was a lover of books, was interested in education, and actively supported her husband in his educational philanthropies. William L. Askew III is the Sue Hightower Hyde Instructor of English.

ROSS MCCAIN LYNN CHAIR OF HISTORY
A former patron of MUS established this chair in 1964 in honor of Colonel Ross M. Lynn, one of the founders of the new Memphis University School and its first headmaster. Jonathan M. Large is the Ross McCain Lynn Instructor of History.

RUTH MCCAUGHAN MORRISON CHAIR OF SCIENCE
Former chairman of the Board of Trustees, William P. “Buddy” Morrison, along with his sons, John, Price ’75, and Joe ’78, established this chair in 1984 to honor his wife and their mother, Ruth McConaughan Morrison. William S. Taylor is the Ruth McConaughan Morrison Instructor of Science.

DONALD BAILEY WIENER CHAIR OF MATHEMATICS
The endowed Chair of Mathematics was established in 1985 in honor of Donald B. Wiener through a gift from his brother, Russel Lee Wiener, and his sons, Bailey and Lee ’63. Nancy N. Gates is the Donald Bailey Wiener Instructor of Mathematics.

Special Endowed Funds

W. PRESTON BATTLE LIBRARY COLLECTION
This fund is named in memory of the Honorable W. Preston Battle and in honor of Walter Preston Battle IV ’07 and John Neely Battle ’09. The endowment was established in 2000 by Neely S. Battle and W. Preston Battle III ’71 to provide income to the Joseph R. Hyde, Jr. Library Learning Center for the acquisition of books by and about American writers.
DISTINGUISHED TEACHING AWARD
This permanent endowment fund was established in 1990 through a generous bequest by John Murry Springfield. Springfield joined the Memphis University School faculty in 1958 and served as an instructor in English and mathematics until 1971. From 1971 until his death in August 1989, Springfield served as principal of the Hull Lower School. The monetary award is given annually to an MUS faculty member who demonstrates excellence in both the classroom and extracurricular activities.

FACULTY ENDOWMENT FUND
A part of the permanent endowment, earnings from this fund provide financial assistance that adds a measure of quality as reflected in enhanced faculty salaries.

EDWARD E. FORD FOUNDATION SPORTS FACILITY FUND
This fund was endowed in 1989 by the Edward E. Ford Foundation to provide for the operation and maintenance of the Sue H. Hyde Sports and Physical Education Center.

EDWARD E. FORD FOUNDATION TEACHERS FUND
Endowed by the Edward E. Ford Foundation in 1984, this fund was established to enhance faculty salaries so that MUS can attract and retain excellent classroom teachers.

JEAN BARBEE HALE AWARD FOR OUTSTANDING SERVICE
The Jean Barbee Hale Award for Outstanding Service was established in 1998 by family and friends to honor Jean Hale for her 24 years of service and dedication to Memphis University School. The income from the endowment provides a monetary award that is given each year to a member of the MUS family who has exhibited outstanding loyalty, responsibility, dedication, and commitment to excellence in service to the school.

HALE FELLOWSHIP FOR FACULTY DEVELOPMENT
The income from this fund provides the financial support for a faculty member to pursue professional research, study, and travel during the summer months. Ben Hale created the first such fund at MUS in 2002 to honor his sons Scott ’78, Dennis ’80, and Steve ’84. Faculty members submit proposals each year from which the Hale Fellow is selected.

HALLIDAY LIBRARY COLLECTION
Dot and Bill Halliday established the Halliday Library Collection in 2000 to support the resources of the Joseph R. Hyde, Jr. Library Learning Center. Earnings from the endowment provide funds for the purchase of books and journals. Dot Halliday was a longtime MUS bookstore staff member. The Hallidays have three sons who attended MUS: Charles B. Allen ’77, William P. Halliday III ’82, and Allen P. Halliday ’85.

JOSEPH R. HYDE III FACULTY ENDOWMENT FUND
This fund was established in 1989 in honor of alumnus and board member Joseph R. “Pitt” Hyde III ’61. Earnings from the endowment provide income used for the improvement of faculty salaries.

JOURNALISM SUMMER FELLOWSHIP ENDOWMENT
Former editors and staff of The Owl’s Hoot established this fund in 2008 in honor of Norman S. Thompson’s 35th anniversary at Memphis University School. Income from the endowment provides tuition and travel expenses for The Owl’s Hoot editor to attend the Columbia Scholastic Press Association journalism workshop at Columbia University each summer.

LIBRARY ENDOWMENT FUND
A part of the permanent endowment, earnings from this fund provide budgetary assistance that is designated specifically for use in procuring books and resources for the Joseph R. Hyde, Jr. Library Learning Center.

LOEB ENDOWMENT FOR ACADEMIC SUPPORT
As MUS raises its academic standards, the school must likewise raise its level of academic support. Trustee Robert E. Loeb ’73 established this endowment in 2003 during the Doors to New Opportunities Campaign. The income is used by the academic dean to develop and fund programs that provide academic support.

JOHN M. NAIL ENDOWMENT FUND
This fund was established in 1988 in memory of John M. Nail by his former students. Nail taught English and history at MUS in the late 1950s, instilling in his students an enduring “love of learning.” Income from the endowment provides funds to support faculty development: (1) the John M. Nail Outstanding Teaching Award; (2) the John M. Nail Teaching Fellowship; and, (3) the John M. Nail Departmental Award. The recipient of the awards and fellowship is determined by the Senior Class and is presented each year to a faculty member who teaches in the Upper School.

MARK COOPER POWELL AWARD FUND
Given in honor of Mark Cooper Powell ’80 by his parents, Marilyn and Edward Powell, income from this fund provides an award to the graduating senior who, through persistence and courage during his career at Memphis University School, has shown the greatest development of character and scholarship.

JAMES C. RAINER IV FAMILY LIBRARY COLLECTION
Missy and Jim Rainer ’77 established this fund in 2000 in honor of their sons Jimbo ’05, Alex ’06, Peter ’10, and Wil ’13. Income from the endowment provides funds to purchase books by and about Southern writers for the Joseph R. Hyde, Jr. Library Learning Center.

KING AND JUDY ROGERS ENDOWMENT FOR LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT
Judy and King Rogers, parents of King W. Rogers IV ’98, provided this endowment in 2000 to fund annual leadership development programs for MUS students. The income from the fund provides the resources to bring a renowned speaker to campus and sponsor additional leadership programs.

ANDREW F. SAUNDERS III ENDOWMENT FOR THEATER PRODUCTION
Martha and Tom Horton established this fund in 2010 to honor Andy Saunders at the time of his retirement from MUS after 38 years on the faculty. Income from the endowment provides funding for theater productions.

ROY E. WINEGARDNER FELLOWSHIPS
Former Trustee Michael D. Rose established this fund in 2010 to honor the memory of his friend and mentor, Roy E. Winegardner. Former chairman and CEO of Holiday Inns, Inc., Winegardner was a pioneer and leader in the hospitality industry and the father of alumnus Diego P. Winegardner ’87. The income from the endowment provides summer fellowships to enrich student talents and the intellectual and leadership climate of MUS. The fellowships, for rising juniors and seniors on need-based financial aid, are determined by approval of the school administration.

CREST & CORNERSTONE

The Crest & Cornerstone Society recognizes individuals who have ensured the future strength of the school by including Memphis University School as a direct beneficiary in their estate plans.

* In Memoriam
This summer Jonathan Large held in his hands the Bible General Robert E. Lee kept with him during the Civil War. He walked battlefields where sons of the North and South fought and died in bloody conflicts. He visited the homes, and farms, and birthplaces of presidents who shaped our nation’s history. Thanks to the stipend he received as the holder of the Ross McCain Lynn Chair of History, he traveled to historical sites in North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, and Pennsylvania, absorbing details that now enrich his teaching.

Large says he was “deeply humbled” two years ago when Headmaster Ellis Haguewood told him he would be honored with the chair, established in 1964.

“I love studying the past; I am also firmly committed to this school and to its mission,” Large says. “I strive to use the chair each year in a way that will deepen my love for and understanding of history. I am thankful for the generosity of MUS and its donors, which made my trip possible.”

The school presents nine endowed chairs to instructors who exemplify the Memphis University School mission.
Benefactors establish the funds in honor or memory of a loved one or influential person. Each fund generates a stipend awarded annually to the honoree. Beyond recognizing outstanding teachers, the program provides benefits to the school in recruiting teachers, highlighting areas of instructor expertise to prospective families, and encouraging excellent practices among faculty members.

“The endowed chairs have helped us reward great teachers and show them that we value the work that they do,” Haguewood says. “There’s a certain credibility that comes with having such a title. Leadership responsibilities accrue because other teachers look at them as master teachers, and so they assume that role.”

Haguewood was grateful to have the Donald Bailey Wiener Chair of Mathematics as a resource when he recruited Nancy Gates to serve as chair of the Math Department in 1998. “We wanted to build our math program with a person who was clearly recognized as the best math teacher in Shelby County.”

“It was certainly an honor to be awarded the Weiner Chair of Mathematics,” Gates says, “but with that honor I feel a responsibility to strive to live up to the expectations of this great school and our outstanding Mathematics Department. MUS is a wonderful place to work, and I am grateful to be here and to have been given this generous vote of confidence.”

For Instructor in Physics Wayne Mullins, the Sally and Wil Hergenrader Chair of Excellence in Science provides additional credibility to letters he writes for student college and scholarship applications and to his volunteer teaching in area schools.

“The title lends credence to the fact that I am a dedicated professional,” Mullins says. “It enables me to reach out to the community.”

When Instructor in Biology Bill Taylor was a young teacher in the mid-70s, he looked up to the men who held endowed chairs. Now holder of the Ruth McCaughan Morrison Chair of Excellence in Science, he says with characteristic humility, “I was lucky to get mine – just in the right spot at the right time.”

To Taylor the chair is especially significant because the Morrisons endowed it. “What a great MUS family,” he says. “Two of their three boys went here, Buddy Morrison was chairman of the board, and he and Ruth were very generous to the school. Just to be tangentially associated with them is a great honor.”

Trey Suddarth, holder of the A. Robert Boelte, Jr. Chair of Excellence in Teaching, sees the establishment of these funds as recognition of the special relationship between teacher and student.

He reflects on the influence Dr. Gregory Clark, a professor of art history at Sewanee: The University of the South, had on his life, teaching him that “hard work, thrift, and education were the keys to advancement in this world,” Suddarth says. “The fact that people would donate the amount of money necessary to endow a chair speaks to the fact that [a teacher] was very influential in their lives,” Suddarth says. “If I’m going to donate money for something, I really have to believe in it.”

The Hyde family believed in the process, establishing a teaching chair in 1963 and renaming it in 1977 as the Sue Hightower Hyde Chair of English in memory of the wife of Joseph R. Hyde, Jr. She was “a lover of books…interested in education,” according to the description of the chair. It is fitting that instructor in English and lover of literature Lin Askew holds this chair. He calls it one of the greatest honors of his life.

“The previous chair had been Jim Russell, whose dedication to the school, passion for his subject, and regard among students, faculty, and administration were legendary,” Askew says. “And he had held the chair for over 40 years! How does one follow that? Such an honor is both flattering and humbling. It affirms the recipient’s love of the school, his students, and his subject, yet any one of my colleagues in the English Department is worthy of this recognition. Such opportunities for teachers reinforce that MUS is certainly a great school and an extraordinary place to teach.”

Instructor in Religion David Jackson, holder of the Robert J. Hussey, Sr. Chair of Religion, expresses gratitude for the vote of confidence the chair provides. “The generosity of families like the Husseys gives a real boost to all the faculty but to me in particular. I believe in what I am doing and would do it anyway, but this is a real encouragement to pursue, persevere, keep doing what I’m doing.”

In recent years Haguewood has encouraged donors...
interested in endowing chairs to set broad parameters for the awardees. For instance, the L. Edwin Eleazer III Chair of Excellence in Teaching, held by Instructor in English Norman Thompson, can be awarded to an instructor in any department. The Anne and Glenn A. Crosby Chair of Christian Ethics, held by Instructor in Mathematics Loyal Murphy ’86, can be given to any teacher who promotes the MUS mission of developing “well-rounded young men of strong moral character, consistent with the school’s Christian tradition.”

To Murphy this chair highlights a vital responsibility upheld throughout the faculty and staff. “Young men learn from example and must have conscientious adults modeling proper behavior to aid the development of high moral standards. At MUS we nurture the values that will foster responsible citizens, great husbands, and awesome fathers. We have a rich history of providing our boys with teachers of exemplary character, and our current faculty is no exception. In my opinion, many of our instructors qualify to hold the Crosby Chair.”

A Chair in the Life of Norman Thompson

“Way back in the spring, I believe it was, of 1999, Mr. Haguewood dropped into my office and began to broach the subject of endowed chairs, their reasons for existing, and the aura of professionalism they cast on the school. He spoke of the honors they conveyed to the recipient of the chair and to the person in whose honor the chair was endowed. He spoke of the tragic death of young L. Edwin Eleazer III, an MUS alumnus and student at the University of Mississippi, whom his parents, Ed and Katie Dobbs Eleazer, wished to memorialize by establishing the L. Edwin Eleazer III Chair of Excellence in Teaching.

“Wondering why he was telling me of the school’s plan to endow chairs to reward dedicated teachers and to facilitate the recruitment of superior teachers to replace the inevitable attrition caused by retirement, I asked Mr. Haguewood whether he was asking me to see that this information be included in the next edition of The Owl’s Hoot.

“Looking at me as though I were a student slow to absorb classroom lecture, he explained that I had been chosen to occupy the newly established chair. Stupefaction contended with elation in my response as I thanked him for this great honor, an honor that is as meaningful to me today as it was those many years ago.”

ENCHANTED BY OXFORD

Oxbridge program offers Graham Boswell unforgettable experience

Graham Boswell ’18 found the city of Oxford, England, just as fascinating as his studies during a one-week economics course at Corpus Christi College.Arranged through Oxbridge Academic Programs, the trip was funded by a 2016 Roy E. Winegardner Fellowship.

“I had a fantastic experience with an internationally diverse student body and faculty, a beautiful city that I was left to my own devices to explore, and an interesting subject with a great professor,” Boswell says. “The cultural diversity among the [participants] was probably the most interesting and enriching aspect of the experience.”

The program brought together students in grades 10-12 from countries all over the globe and different regions of the United States.

“We learned about economic laws [related to] supply and demand and moral hazard, but we also played fun games to illustrate other concepts like free riding [in stock trading] and the tragedy of the commons [depleting shared resources] that would have been difficult to explain in a traditional way,” he says.

While Boswell’s challenging economics course was the focus, the town of Oxford – with its majestic architecture and palpable sense of history – also gave him plenty to experience and explore.

“The freedom and independence the program afforded the students truly gave everyone the feeling of being in college,” he says. “Every aspect of Oxford felt part of a long and important history, and its rich cultural life gave us many opportunities to participate in activities beyond our program.”

Boswell said he especially enjoyed walking along the Oxford Canal, boating up the Thames, attending a production of Shakespeare’s Love’s Labour’s Lost, and experiencing the classical compositions of Haydn, Beethoven, Feinberg, and Schumann at a virtuoso piano recital.

“I am deeply grateful to have been awarded a Winegardner Fellowship, without which I could not have had this unforgettable experience,” Boswell says. “I found myself even more interested in economics as well as the world around me. I am more appreciative of a quiet walk in a beautiful town at night, and more enamored with classical music than I would have been had I not gone to that recital. Oxbridge is a great program in a great town in one of the best colleges in the world.”

IMPROVING HIS ODDS

Chang Yu practices mathematics with future competition in mind

Chang Yu ’18 used a 2016 Winegardner Fellowship to dive deeper into one of his favorite subjects – advanced mathematics. Yu had previous experience with online mathematics courses through the Art of Problem Solving (AoPS), an online school that draws top math students from around the country. With his fellowship, he was able to enroll in two of the school’s advanced online courses in preparation for the American Invitational Mathematics Examination (AIME), a prestigious competition in which thousands of high school students compete for the opportunity to qualify for the United States of America Mathematical Olympiad (USAMO).

“The Art of Problem Solving courses and materials are designed to inspire and challenge students to reach high levels in mathematics,” Yu says. “Participating in USAMO can grant one a chance to represent the United States in the International Mathematical Olympiad, depending on scores in the USAMO.”

Yu’s online course is ongoing, but he had completed 13 lectures by mid-August.

“The lectures have covered advanced number theory, counting and probability, and advanced algebra strategies,” Yu says. “Each lecture is accompanied by a set of 10 problems that challenged me to think in creative ways and facilitated deeper comprehension and interest. I found myself improving and appreciating the depth and breadth of mathematics with every set.”

The accomplished faculty at AoPS helps ensure quality instruction, and students are given peer groups to help challenge and inspire them.

“With the guidance of distinguished mentors, I have learned new methods of applying fundamental concepts such as the binomial theorem to break down complex problems into elegant and simple solutions. I also discovered a group of passionate students like me who wish to cultivate mathematical intuition,” Yu says.

“This was a wonderful opportunity.”

In hopes of sharing the opportunity, Yu is working with the Math Department to form a club to challenge fellow Owls in advanced mathematics and the related sciences.

José Hernandez, MUS instructor in Spanish, led a group of rising sophomores and juniors on the trip so they could enhance their language skills and learn about the culture while living for three weeks in the city of Montezuma. In addition to their academic study, students participated in a variety of outdoor activities, including hiking to a waterfall, snorkeling (Homan’s favorite), visiting Cabuya and Santa Teresa, playing Frisbee, and surfing.

“We met our tour guides and teachers on our first day and liked them instantly. Saying goodbye to them was the hardest part of the trip,” he says.

As Homan’s first, non-sports travel activity, this trip was especially meaningful.

“I now understand why some people have a complete change in lifestyle after such trips,” he says. “Our group created many relationships with the locals, and I also have a much deeper appreciation and interest for the Spanish culture and language.”

Homan says he is grateful for the Winegardner Fellowship for providing “the best experience of my life.”
When Brooks Eikner ‘17 arrived at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Summer Journalism Workshop in New York City, he was expecting The Owl’s Hoot to be far superior to other school papers brought by 175 students from around the country.

“I was sadly mistaken,” says Eikner, who will serve as co-editor of the paper this year along with Barry Klug ‘18. “But seeing the works of other schools taught me what could be improved in our newspaper. Opening our eyes to our faults will allow us to make the most of our limited time with creative control of The Owl’s Hoot.”

He picked up tips about engaging the reader with dynamic photos and graphics on the front page, incorporating more articles written in journalistic style (rather than subjective columns), and adding survey reporting to the mix.

Beyond the daily classes, Eikner had time to explore the Morningside Heights neighborhood with his newfound friends. “One night we all traveled to the Theater District to see Finding Neverland, a musical based on the movie about J.M. Barrie’s creation of Peter Pan. I had a fantastic time.”

Eikner says he is grateful to the founders of the Journalism Summer Fellowship Endowment for the opportunity “to travel, and to learn, and to make friends, and to have fun.

“I have an enormous responsibility not only to continue the excellence of the editors of the past, but also to introduce improvements to a paper that is already great.”

Former editors and staff of The Owl’s Hoot established the Journalism Summer Fellowship Endowment in 2008 in honor of Norman S. Thompson’s 35th anniversary at Memphis University School. Income from the endowment provides tuition and travel expenses for The Owl’s Hoot editor to attend the Columbia Scholastic Press Association journalism workshop at Columbia University each summer.
Memphis University School is a college-preparatory school dedicated to academic excellence, cultivation of service and leadership, and the development of well-rounded young men of strong moral character, consistent with the school’s Christian tradition.

PHILOSOPHY

Memphis University School is committed to high standards of honor and integrity, academic performance, service, leadership and athletics, and to the transmission of Judeo-Christian values.

An MUS education is characterized by a rigorous curriculum, a lively exchange of ideas, supportive teaching, and adherence to an honor code. Its objective is to instruct students in the skills and subject matter of the humanities and sciences, to engender successful habits and techniques of learning, and to instill the foremost principles of personal responsibility, morality, and gentlemanly conduct.

A dynamic extracurricular program devoted to excellence promotes leadership and service and encourages development of physical fitness and a rich variety of talents and interests.

Non-denominational and non-sectarian, MUS seeks to foster a respectful appreciation of the spiritual nature of people and honors the sincere expression of widely different faiths. MUS aspires to be a community of mutual respect and concern regardless of individual differences.
